PETIPAS, Leonard Frances, Pte., at hand—and their wives back them up.

Dr. Elizabeth O. Hayes, 33, former worker at the famed Grenfell Mission in Labrador, started the furor by resigning as physician of the Shawmut Mining Company in protest against the firm's refusal to make health improvements she recommended in company-owned houses.

Ross Pentz, attorney for the miners, asserted sewage flows from outhouses into streets where children played and into wells of drinking water. He reported five wells were contaminated.

"State Health Department representatives told her condition were no different here than in other Pennsylvania mining towns but she asked them: 'Why wait for an epidemic to do something about it?'" Pentz said, "If typhoid got started it would spread like wildfire in this weather."

Dr. Hayes threatened to "move."
